Step down below to see the world.

A fantastical journey introduces young readers to subway travel. Join this wondrous trip through ten of the world's busiest subway stations as five children join together, showing how travel through different cultures creates community. Pay the fare, pass through the gates, and zip through the tunnels of the subway station around the world!

Educational for children and adults alike, Subway Ride is an inspirational story of how we are united through diversity. Set in an underground subway that can venture from country to country, this book combines vivid pictures with simple text, making for an easy and fun read.

Back matter includes information about the ten stations mentioned: Atlanta, Cairo, Chicago, London, Mexico City, Moscow, New York City, Stockholm, Tokyo, and Washington, D.C.

Heather Lynn Miller has published more than thirty books for children and several articles for the teaching magazine, Mailbox. She lives with her husband and two daughters in Auburn, Indiana.

Sue Ramá is both a writer and illustrator for children. Her illustrated books include Fix it, Sam and Yum! Yuck! A Foldout Book of People Sounds. She lives in East Windsor Hill, Connecticut.
